Report

The Hindi Department organized an One day National seminar on Bharateeya Gyan parampara on 29th September 2025. The seminar was conducted virtually through Google meet and was attended by academicians, Hindi faculties and Resource scholars from across the Nation. The seminar began with an Inaugural session that included a Welcome address by DR Sumangala.C.Angadi. Head Department of Hindi and Seminar organizing secretary.

The Keynote address was delivered By Dr. Manjunath N Ambig Professor and Chairperson Register (I/C) Post Graduate and Research Institute Dakshin Bharat Hindi Prachar Sabha Madras (Chennai) Tamilnadu, "Bharatiya Jnana Parampara" translates to Indian Knowledge Systems or Indian Knowledge Traditions, referring to the vast historical body of knowledge, philosophy, sciences, arts, and spiritual traditions originating from the Indian subcontinent over thousands of years. This rich heritage, rooted in ancient texts like the Vedas, encompasses diverse fields such as ethics, numbers, music, and sacred geometry.

The Resource person of the seminar delivered by Prof. Dinesh Chandra Chamola 'Shailesh' Professor, Department of Languages and Modern Science, Former HOD and Dean, Uttarakhand Sanskrit University Haridwar. Bharatiya Gyana Parampara is the Indian Knowledge System, an ancient tradition encompassing philosophy, science, mathematics, medicine, and spirituality, transmitted through a guru-shishya relationship and based on the Vedas and Upanishads. Hindi bhakti sahitya is a form of devotion literature that emerged from the Bhakti movement, emphasizing intense, emotional love for a personal deity, often in a vernacular language like Hindi, a tradition that builds on the deeper spiritual understanding found in Bharatiya Jnana Parampara.

Principal Prof S N Poleshi of our college presided over the function. Prof Umar Halyal gave vote of thanks. Prof Shrishail Hatti anchoring the One day National seminar. Many Hindi Faculty members and Resource scholars remained connected through out the Online sessions of the seminar.
